All school policies, including the Code of Conduct, are available on the school Extranet or from the School Office on request. These consist of all policies related to teaching and learning as well as those concerned with pastoral care, Child Protection and Health and Safety. The School Complaints Procedure is also available.

Introduction

In the Upper Sixth you will continue to focus on the three (or four) subjects that you are intending to take through to full A level. You may gain extra study time if you have completed one of your subjects at AS and this gives the opportunity to read and research more widely. You will find that this will add real enjoyment and excitement to your studies as you begin to see how the syllabus content sits in the wider context. Making yourself use study time wisely and resisting distraction is one of the best preparations for the unstructured days of university.

You will also probably become preoccupied with applications to university. Please seek and take advice from your teachers and be pro-active in using the resources available to you in the Careers Library. Take careful note of the various deadlines for submission of application forms. The School needs at least a week and at peak times sometimes longer to deal with your forms properly.

The offer of university places will give you goals to strive towards and often act as a way of renewing perhaps flagging motivation that you may experience.

Enjoy the last few months of your school career and school friendships. It is an exciting time planning your future and anticipating life beyond the security and safe environment that St Helen's provides.

Period 8	3.25pm – 4.05pm
Form time/registration	4.05pm – 4.10pm

Registration, Attendance and Signing in Procedures

The school day starts at 8.40am with registration. All girls are expected to be with their form tutors in their form rooms at this time. You should aim to arrive in School by 8.30am to give you time to organise yourself for the day before registration. This period provides a key point of contact between staff, form tutors and girls and there are often important messages to be passed on.

Afternoon registration with form tutors takes place each day at 4.05pm in the Atrium for the Sixth Form. You should not leave before you have been registered by your form tutor or his/her representative. You must not sign yourself out before your form tutor arrives at the end of the day.

If you for any reason arrive in School after registration, you must sign in on the sheets outside Reception and then go and join your form in assembly. Late arrivals will be recorded in the form register. Persistent lateness will be viewed seriously and may result in loss of privileges.

If you are too unwell to attend School, we ask that a parent telephones the school before 9.00am to let us know. Although most of you will be 18 before you leave school and therefore legally adults, we ask your parents to continue to write your absence notes and to make the phone call/email about absence as we are responsible to them for your education at this important time.

It is a Sixth Form privilege to take one regular early afternoon each week if your timetable allows and this is arranged on an individual basis with your form tutor provided it is not considered detrimental to your work. It is intended to provide you with the opportunity to study quietly at home or visit libraries, museums or exhibitions that may not be open at the weekend. There may be occasions when we ask you to remain in school for all or part of this afternoon hence please do not arrange driving lessons during this time. As attending morning assemblies and form time are important parts of our community life, late mornings are not permitted, even if you have no timetabled lessons first thing.

You are permitted to leave the School premises at lunch times between 12.00pm and 2.00pm if you have no lessons or other commitments. You may also leave the site for other authorised reasons such as community service, lessons at Abingdon School or to take your early afternoon. On each occasion, you are required to sign out and in on the sheets provided outside Reception. It is important that we know who is on the premises in case there is a fire alarm, or in case we need to find you for any reason. You may use the Sixth Form Centre after 4.10pm if you are in school for an arranged activity and therefore under the supervision of a member of staff. All girls may use the centre between 4.10pm and 5.30pm and should sign in and out on the sheets outside Miss Doherty's office. Everyone should leave by 5.30pm and if you need to stay later then written permission should be obtained.

You should not leave the site for any other reasons unless you have requested and received permission from Miss Doherty. Again, under those circumstances, please do not forget to sign out.

Absence Requests

Letters from your parents concerned with requests for absence for routine medical or dental appointments, university open days and interviews or significant family events should be addressed to the Head of Sixth Form, Miss Doherty.

As the timetable is more flexible for you in the Sixth Form and you will have a number of study periods, routine appointments, where possible, should be arranged so that you do not miss timetabled lessons. Please note that while driving tests can be taken during school time, driving lessons should be arranged out of school hours or during the lunch hour, and not during study periods.

Requests for leave for 'taster' courses such as Medlink should be made via the Careers and Higher Education Department which will liaise with your form tutor and the Head of Sixth Form. Form tutors will monitor your university open day attendance and advise on visits. As a general rule, you are restricted to two such visits a term during school time in L6 to avoid missing too much teaching. Form tutors will be able to advise about alternatives such as holiday or weekend visits with St Helen's Old Girls. Please ask your parents to confirm in writing any proposed absence for open days and taster courses well before the event takes place. You should also talk to teaching staff as a matter of courtesy if you will miss their lessons.

Any requests for your absence other than the above should be addressed to the Headmistress.

Sixth Form Dress Guidelines 2017-2018

Students should aim to be smart, neat and presentable at all times and to dress in a way that is appropriate for the school day.

Choice of dress for school is a matter of careful judgement for students and they are able to express their personal taste in their clothes. However, they must ensure that they do not dress in such a way that may cause offence or embarrassment for pupils, staff and visitors.

All members of the Sixth Form undertake tours of the school for visitors, and should make sure that their dress is suitable since they could be called on at short notice.

General Guidelines

- Jeans (and denim skirts) may be worn provided they are not torn, patched, ragged or written on.
- Skirts should be mid-thigh or longer, this also applies to tops worn over leggings.
- Tops or dresses should not be low cut, reveal ample cleavage or expanses of bare flesh. Midriffs should be covered at all times. Bandeau and halterneck tops are not acceptable.
- Shorts and playsuits to mid-thigh are acceptable but short shorts, cut-offs and hotpants are not.
- Active wear is not permitted except when playing sport.
- For safety reasons, open-toed shoes and flipflops cannot be worn for lessons in science laboratories.
 - Make up should be discreet, nail varnish is permitted.
 - Hats, hoods and other head coverings may not be worn in lesson or for assemblies unless special permission has been obtained from the Headmistress.
 - Body-piercing, other than for ears, is unacceptable. Any girl presenting herself at school with unauthorised body-piercings will be required to remove the stud/ring irrespective of when the piercing was carried out, or cover with a medicated dressing.
 - Any tattoos (henna or other) should not be visible. NB it is an offence to tattoo anyone under the age of 18.

Smart dress

All students must have one smart set of formal clothes. This should be a mid-thigh length skirt or dress, or tailored trousers with a shirt, sweater, jacket or equivalent and shoes appropriate to the occasion. No denim or black jeans please.

Smart dress will be required on the following occasions:

- Open Day
- Sixth Form Open Afternoon and Evening
- Practice Interviews
- Radley Conference
- Prize Giving
- St Helen's Church Eucharist service
- Any out of school visits or trips if requested by staff
- Other formal occasions as informed

Staff will ask students to change or cover up if it is considered that their dress or appearance is in any way inappropriate for the working school day.

Assemblies and Form Time

Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday
Section Assembly	Form time	School Assembly	Form time	Chapel

House meetings will take place on Thursday mornings every few weeks. Occasionally, Section assemblies will be held jointly with other Sections.

Timings

Chapel and whole school assemblies start at 8.45am. This means you need to leave your form room immediately after registering at 8.40am in order to be there on time. Section Assemblies start at 8.55am; you leave your form room at the 8.50am bell and go to the relevant location.

Silence

All movement around the School between 8.40am and 9.10am is in silence. This means you are silent from the moment you leave your form room, no matter where you are going or why. The Sixth Form Hall team will be on duty around school to help you remember to be silent, as will all members of staff.

Bags

Sixth Formers may bring their bags to assembly but must store them carefully out of the way in YPH Foyer. Bags should not be left anywhere else, and especially not in the Long Gallery or Atrium.

A quiet, contemplative start to the school day helps all of us approach our work with a positive and calm outlook. These rules help everyone in preparing themselves for the day ahead, and it is important that the whole community works together to uphold them.

If you are late for school for any reason, you should join assembly immediately after you have signed in on the sheet outside Reception.

The pattern of assemblies is published each half term by the Chaplain. There will be opportunities to organise assemblies and Sixth Form Chapel on Fridays and possibly for the younger forms on other days. Please see the Chaplain, your form tutor or Miss Doherty about these.

The Chaplain offers confidential advice and pastoral care to any member of the School.

Cars and Parking

Many of you will become car drivers during your time at school. Please note that while driving tests can be taken during School time, driving lessons should be arranged out of school hours or during the lunch hour and not during study periods.

For this academic year we will not be able to provide parking on site for students, however, there is some parking available at Wantage House. If you park in a residential road, in the interests of both safety and good neighbourliness, you must be careful that you do not obstruct driveways and garages. Residents also need room to manoeuvre their own cars so be sure to leave at least two metres on each side of any entrance. Please be courteous. If necessary, move your vehicle to an alternative location to help avoid bad feeling arising. Leave enough time to walk from your car to School in the mornings.

Girls who have lessons at Abingdon School should note that they are not permitted to drive cars onto the Abingdon School site and that parking round Albert Park is restricted to residents. Similarly, Abingdon boys are not permitted to bring their cars onto the St Helen's site.

If you carry passengers in your car, you must take responsibility to ensure that your insurance cover is appropriate. You should check that any Sixth Form girl intending to travel with you has her parents' permission to do so. Any girl in Year 11 or below intending to travel with you must carry a note giving written permission from her parents to do so.

Pastoral Information

Mobile Phones

It is accepted that mobile phones are important for safety, particularly on the journey to and from school. You may use them in your free time in social areas of the Sixth Form Centre, although extensive usage beyond checking for messages is not encouraged, and you may not use them around school e.g. in the Refectory or corridors. You may be given permission by your teacher to use them in lessons (for example using an internet-enabled device for research), but otherwise phones MUST always be turned off during lessons. Your phone will be confiscated if you do not follow these guidelines. Phones should be used appropriately, in compliance with the anti-bullying policy, ICT Acceptable Use Policy and good etiquette.

Personal Electronic Equipment

You may also bring in electronic readers, such as Kindles. Please remember that all these devices are your responsibility, so look after them and use them sensibly.

It is a Sixth Form privilege that iPods and personal electronic equipment can be used in the Sixth Form Centre and in the Sixth Form area of the library. We cannot take responsibility for the safety of this equipment if you do bring it to School. It goes without saying that you must not use it in the rest of the School buildings or grounds during School hours, and failure to comply will result in confiscation. If you would like to use your own laptop in school then please complete the permission form on the Pupil/and Parent area of the website and return to Miss Doherty.

Sixth Form Tutor System

Each tutor group is supervised by a form tutor. He or she is responsible for your academic and social welfare for the two years that you will be in the Sixth Form and it is to your tutor that you should refer in the first instance for advice and guidance. Miss Doherty, Head of Sixth Form, Mr Smart, Deputy Head of Sixth Form, take an overview of the Sixth Form supporting the work of the tutors and are happy to see you individually about any matters that may concern you. As you start planning university applications, Mrs Armstrong, Head of Higher Education, and the higher education team can advise you.

In the Sixth Form, we hope that you will develop an easy and friendly relationship with the staff. A number of formal points of communication between the School and your parents are arranged during the two years in the Sixth Form to help to enable you and your parents to monitor your progress and to pick up any difficulties early so that they can be addressed. Please, though, do not wait for a Parents' Meeting or a report if you feel that you might need extra help or guidance. Equally, we welcome contact with your parents. They should contact Miss Doherty, or your form tutor by letter, telephone or email. Staff can be contacted by email, using the staff member's initial and surname e.g. hdoherty@shsk.org.uk or as given in the front of this booklet. As staff are usually teaching during the school day, it is possible to request, via the school office, that telephone calls are returned at a mutually convenient time.

We invite you to accompany your parents to Parents' Meetings. It is often a useful time to work out a strategy to assist you with input from all concerned with your welfare.

Throughout the Sixth Form there are regular informal checks on your progress and regular discussion with your form tutor or the Head of Sixth Form where appropriate. Each girl should expect to have a discussion with her form tutor following each assessment session and examination results, and when reports have been written.

Helplines – Outside agencies

For a few of you, there may be times when you need to seek advice and support from an outside agency. Here you will receive objective and impartial advice. We do urge you, however, to talk in the first instance to someone who knows you well – your parents, or someone from School. Often, problems that loom large to an individual can be put in perspective through talking – please do not worry about issues by yourself. There are plenty of people out there to help you!

Curriculum Information

Students choose three, four or five subjects to study at A level. There are also other two year options to provide breadth and depth. All girls undertake the St Katharine's Study, an independent research project which includes the option to take the Extended Project Qualification. Other breadth and depth options include courses in Arabic, Mandarin and Coding, There is also the option to take an AS in mathematics taught over two years for those who wish to study mathematics Post 16 but do not wish to take the full A level.

A range of 22 different subjects is offered in sets of a maximum of 16 students although many are taught in smaller sets. Students are encouraged to study a programme which encompasses breadth and gives them a range of options at university. The school week has 40 periods, so each day has eight periods Each AS and A Level course has 7 lessons per week. A Level art and drama and theatre have 8 in recognition of the predominantly practical nature of these subjects. Drama and theatre and government and politics are taught in mixed sets with boys from Abingdon School.

Sixth Formers are encouraged to pursue their studies beyond the confines of their A Level subjects. They are given the opportunity to study university level courses, offered by a variety of institutions. These courses are intended either to deepen their understanding of a topic studied within their core curriculum, or to complement their examined subjects. A considerable number of courses are provided free of charge online by providers such as Coursera and FutureLearn. They are also encouraged to take part in subject related competitions, such as Oxbridge Essay Prizes and the ARTiculation Prize, which is a public speaking competition about the arts for school students. Students are offered these opportunities as educationally valuable in their own right, and as opportunities to develop their independence of thought, self-discipline, motivation and research skills.

Since the Sixth Form curriculum is designed to meet the needs of the individual, other combinations are made available where ever possible, e.g. DT. Please note however, that we are not able to offer any curriculum subject that requires an oral or practical element unless it is in a subject offered here or at Abingdon School. Additionally, a candidate may not enter for an examination at another centre without the prior permission of the Headmistress.

The curriculum is designed to be accessible by all those who meet the criteria for admission. It is the School's intention to improve the accessibility of its education to those with disabilities and we will make any reasonable adjustments possible to facilities and curriculum to achieve that.

Conversation classes for modern languages are timetabled in addition for the relevant girls.

Further information on the curriculum content for each subject can be found on the relevant Your St Helen's pages on the extranet.

A Level Blocking for U6 2017-18 as at 7th July 2017

Subjects in italics indicate joint lessons with Abingdon School students either at Abingdon or St. Helen's.

Managing your work

If any aspect of your work is giving concern you will be asked to discuss the problems with your form tutor and/or Miss Doherty or Mr Smart. These might include time management, attitude to work and difficulties in understanding as well as disappointing achievement. Most of you though will make good progress and you can assume that you are on target for good grades at the end of the year! In each case, your form tutor will discuss the outcome of each assessment with you and keep you informed. Sometimes, strategies for resolving issues will be put in place and this may involve contacting your parents so that they can support you. However, at this stage in your school career, we will always keep you involved in the decision making. Report and Parents' meeting dates are published in the school calendar and indicated in the year outline.

In the Sixth Form you may be set work to complete during the October half term and Christmas holidays. This should amount to no more than four hours per subject.

The Use of Study Periods and Facilities

As a general guideline, you should expect to spend about five hours on each subject outside lesson time on preparation work, written assignments and background reading.

The pattern of work will be less regular than formerly. Work is typically set well in advance – two weeks are often allowed for an assignment so that you may research and plan it properly. It is obviously important that you manage your time effectively and meet work deadlines. If you are having difficulty with an assignment, discuss the problem with staff in good time and well before the deadline. Several subjects run lunch time 'clinics' to give you extra support and all teaching staff will be happy to help you at a mutually convenient time. It would be sensible to use your planner to help you to remain organised!

As well as the study rooms, you should make use of the IT rooms and the Sixth Form section of the library for quiet study. A list of free classrooms will be put in the Common Room so you can make use of these as well. The School has many facilities for you to access, but it is your responsibility to make full and sensible use of the resources available, and to prepare yourself for the independent study that will be expected at university.

Managing Coursework Deadlines

You will know that coursework and practical work are integral parts of some A level courses. Each department sets internal deadlines for particular pieces of coursework in order to both pace the work for you through the year and to allow that department sufficient time to process it effectively. Some is marked by your teachers and moderated by the examination board and some is sent away to be assessed externally.

You must keep to the deadlines for each piece of coursework. It is possible that there may be good reasons why you will find it difficult to meet a deadline. If those reasons are sufficiently serious, like prolonged illness, the Department may, exceptionally, be able to consider an extension to internal deadlines in individual cases. You should, however, speak to the relevant Head of Department in advance of the deadline. A failure to adhere to published deadlines without sufficient reason may result in the coursework being marked in its unfinished state. Failure to meet an internal deadline is regarded very seriously and you are likely to be required to work under supervision in school until the coursework is completed. You will understand that others, who have been organised and handed in completed work on time may well feel aggrieved that you have been given extra time – and this is something that you would have to handle. In extreme cases the school reserves the right to enter a mark of zero for a piece of coursework not submitted by the published internal deadline. In many cases the deadlines for internal submission are significantly in advance of examination board's published deadlines, this is partly to spread the workload of subjects for you and partly to allow time for marking and moderating.

External deadlines are set by the examination boards and failure to meet them will almost certainly mean that your work will miss that assessment session.

Examination boards require that teachers sign to authenticate your work when it is submitted. For this reason, the progress of the work will be overseen by teaching staff and some may have to be undertaken during lessons. In some subjects, you will be advised to keep a log book charting your progress to help to verify that it is your own work. Where it is allowed under QCA subject regulations you may be given opportunities for re-drafting coursework after your teacher has made comments and suggestions. The amount of support given to each girl will vary depending on her teacher's judgment of what needs to be improved. This process may mean that different girls are seen at different times by a teacher, and staff may choose to see you in lesson time, in lunchtimes or other mutually convenient times. They may provide you with written feedback or they may discuss your work with you. You can expect to be given a copy of the assessment criteria for both written and practical coursework elements of courses.

Basically, although you may see coursework as a cause of increased stress, if you follow the suggested timing that your teachers will give you and work steadily, all should be well. You will receive surprisingly little sympathy if you leave much to the last few days and then stay up late in a desperate effort to finish it!

Moving to the A Level Programme after AS

If you wish to make any changes to your programme of study after L6, a procedure to do so must be followed. An A level examination programme form must be completed which is signed by your parents and relevant members of staff to make sure the decision has been discussed and thought through.

Once this form has been processed you may then stop going to lessons in that subject. The form is passed to the exams officer for examination entry information and to Mr Morris for timetable information. It is therefore vital that the form is completed as soon as the decision has been made.

The A level Examination Programme Form is available from Miss Doherty or via the Extranet in the Sixth Form section.

Re-Taking AS Units

Some may wish to consider re-taking AS units in order to improve their grades. January resits are no longer available and the decision as to whether to resit should be made after consultation with the Head of Dept for that subject and the tutor.

Community Service in U6

Many girls have taken the opportunity to take part in Community Service in Lower Sixth and may continue if they wish for a second year by negotiation. Please see Miss Doherty.

Extracurricular Information

At St Helen's we place great emphasis on our broad extracurricular programme. Life beyond the classroom is so important in offering the opportunity to explore and extend wider interests, make friends across age groups and to build confidence. It is this combination which embodies the ethos of the School. Life beyond the classroom here is full. A wide range of sports, clubs and societies, music, drama, educational visits and expeditions are available. Full details of the extracurricular programme are outlined in the 'Beyond' 2017 – 2018 booklet, which students will receive at the beginning of the academic year, and is also available on the school website at www.shsk.org.uk.

We look forward to welcoming you to School to support the many matches, events and productions that take place each term but would remind you that any photographs taken at such events are for private record only and should not be posted in any public forums, such as Facebook, without the express consent of those involved.

Beyond St Helen's

Reminder: University Open Days

It is obviously sensible to make applications to Universities having researched courses and facilities carefully. We encourage you to visit Universities but, because we also want you to achieve the best possible AL grades, ask you to restrict your visits on school days to a maximum of two each term, preferably in the L6 only.

Many Universities run Open Days during our school holidays and on Saturdays and Sundays and you should consider these as the preferred option. We have many contacts with Old Girls who are current students. Consider visiting them to find out about courses, accommodation and the social life. It is often possible to arrange to talk to Admissions tutors on these informal visits. This opportunity would not be likely during crowded Open Days.

The School will of course continue to support you and to provide an academic reference for UCAS and to help you with the application procedure. If this will apply to you, you are advised to email Mrs Armstrong or your last year's form tutor after you obtain your results or at the beginning of September to make an appointment to discuss your application.

SHSK Society

When you leave school you will automatically become a member of the SHSK Society. It is administered by the Alumnae Office within School and aims to develop the relationship between St Helen's and its wider constituency, creating a sense of community and belonging for anyone with a connection to the School.

Through the Society you will have easy access to a network of friends, receive news on a regular basis about St Helen's and its former staff and students, and also invitations to reunions and other school social events. It is a way of keeping in touch with old school friends long after you have gone your separate ways to university and into work.

The Parents' Association

The Parents' Association Committee have daughters across all years in the school and strive to create an enthusiastic, supportive and active community to benefit pupils, parents and staff.

You'll meet the Parents' Association Committee at the welcome events for your daughter's year group in the first term of school. We're always keen for parents to join the committee, so please do talk to us at the event.

Events

Throughout the year, we help at school events and also run social and fundraising events. Over the last year this has included a wine tasting evening and a star gazing night, both of which proved very popular.

We also arrange interesting and informative talks for parents; in the last three years we have heard from four different speakers on the challenges of parenting teenagers, including changes in the teenage brain, sex and relationships and setting boundaries for our children.

Traditionally we serve refreshments at school events such as the Open Day, and Christmas Carol services.

We have some ambitious plans for 2018-2019, including a parent's Ball, quiz night, perhaps a sponsored colour run/family fun day, and we hope to host joint events with Abingdon Boy's parents too.

Our Funds

The money raised at school events and through your subscriptions we support a range of school needs. We sponsor Volunteering Awards to help girls in the Sixth Form who are embarking on projects in holidays or gap year and girls can request equipment for their extra curricula clubs and societies

We also make grants to the school to help fund specific large projects. In recent years with funds totalling over £50,000 we have provided floodlights for the new netball and tennis courts, the spinning bikes in the fitness centre in our new Sports Centre and in September 2017 we will have contributed to the new Art installation in the science atrium,

In addition the Parents' Association have always been proud to be able to make a generous donation to the Schools' charity, the organisation is chosen by the girls each year.

Get Involved

There are a number of ways in which you can directly participate.

Just as your journey with St Helen and St Katharine is about to begin, others are saying an emotional farewell and for the Parents' Association this means empty seats around the committee table! The time commitment is small and the opportunities to feel more involved with the School and the charities it supports are great.

Alternatively, if you do not wish to join the committee, we would really appreciate it if you could be a 'Willing Helper'. Events such as our Christmas Fair or a Ball require a lot of work on the day and your commitment of an hour or so can make a huge difference.

Each form also has a nominated representative to help promote social events and disseminate information and we will be looking to ensure that every form is covered.

If none of the above appeals, your presence at any of our events is always appreciated!

Other activities

The Parents' Association also helps organise and fund an 'At Home' evening. These evenings offer you the chance to meet parents from your daughter's form in the home of a host parent in your daughter's form. We look for a volunteer parent in each form to offer to host the event, usually a 'bring a dish' supper, to which all parents in the form are invited.

These evenings have proved very successful and are an ideal way of getting to know each other in a relaxed setting, during the Michaelmas term.

Finally, you can become a member of the '200 Club'. For only £4 a term you will be allocated a number and be included in a monthly draw for prizes of £45, £30 and £15.

We do hope that you enjoy being part of the School community. Please do join us at one of our events, they can be an excellent way of meeting other parents and becoming involved in the School community.

To volunteer as a willing helper, or join the committee or simply find out more, please fill in the appropriate section of the online form, or just drop us an email at shskpa@gmail.com.

With very best wishes for a happy and successful time at St Helen and St Katharine.

School Charities

Charitable giving is a key component of the ethos of the school and is co-ordinated by Charity Reps from the Sixth Form with the support of the school Chaplain. We are keen to foster in the girls a generous attitude towards those around us who are in need, as well as intelligent charitable giving. We also seek to encourage and support each member of the community in their individual efforts to raise money for other charities.

The chosen charity in 2016 was Whizz-Kidz. Whizz-Kidz work to transform the lives of disabled children by providing them with vital mobility equipment, support and life skills. By the end of 2016 the school community raised an amazing total of £13, 224.44. There was also an additional £1260.88 raised for our local branch of the Riding for the Disabled, Southmoor.

This year our school charity is 'Asylum Welcome', an Oxford based charity that supports refugees, asylum seekers and detainees fleeing danger and persecution in their own countries and who are seeking refuge in Oxford. During Refugee week in June, the sixth form led chapel services for all year groups raising awareness, explaining what the charity does and how we can get involved in fundraising. We had a visiting author, Jill Lewis, come into school to share her book 'A story like the wind' (a retelling of a Mongolian folk tale told by a refugee boy in a flimsy boat at sea, fleeing war) with the girls during lessons. The senior Christian forum group knitted a blanket and coordinated furnishings for a refugee child's room and girls and staff have been busy raising money through a variety of different events from marathons and learning a new instrument in a term to cake sales and home clothes days.

All students are encouraged to participate in the fundraising events that are organised across the school year such as cake sales, charity dinners, home clothes days in addition to the key whole school events such as St Kate's Day and the Parents' Association Christmas Fair.

Alongside our main school charity, at SHSK we sponsor four children's education through World Vision in Swaziland (each House is responsible for keeping in touch with their child and girls from SHSK will be visiting the sponsor children in Swaziland in July 2018). Throughout the year, the school community also has the opportunity to respond financially to major world disasters as well as through prayer in Chapel and we are committed to supporting the local Abingdon Foodbank through our harvest collection.
